Prof. Dr. Jan Lebl is at present the head of the Department of Paediatrics at University Hospital Prague-Motol and 2nd Faculty of Medicine, Charles University in Prague.

Presently he is appointed as president-elect of the European Society of Paediatric Endocrinology (ESPE) for 2009-2010 and the organiser of the ESPE Annual Meeting in Prague in 2010. He is secretary of the ESPE Clinical Fellowship Committee (since 2002), organised or co-organised twice the ESPE Winter School in Prague (2000, 2007) and volunteered several times as an ESPE Winter School teacher.

He studied (1974-1980) and trained (since 1980) at the Faculty of Paediatric Medicine, Charles University in Prague. He worked together with Prof. Herwig Frisch in Vienna (1992) and with Prof. Jeremy Winter in Edmonton (1993). In 1997-2006, he chaired the Department of Paediatrics at the 3rd Faculty of Medicine in Prague where he started (together with Dr. Stepanka Pruhova) the nation-wide project of recognition, diagnosis and therapy of patients with MODY diabetes.

He published more than 200 original articles in peer reviewed medical journals and 10 monographies and textbooks in paediatric endocrinology/diabetes and in general paediatrics.
